bisphenol A (BPA) statement

To Whom It May Concern,

ETS Express is firmly committed to providing our clients and their end-buyers with the safest drinkware products in the promotional products industry. The materials and components, including our decorating inks, all comply with applicable FDA, Cal Prop 65, and other regulations.

While the use of Bisphenol A, also known as BPA, is still approved by the FDA and other regulatory agencies worldwide, we felt that implementing the use of BPA free materials was the responsible course of action. All ETS items are manufactured using FDA approved, BPA free plastics and resins.

sincerely,

ets express, llc
