CPSC
general conformity certificates / certificates of conformity

To Whom It May Concern,

Although not required by CPSIA for drinkware items, ETS is prepared to provide our clients with Certificates of Conformity to show compliance with the applicable regulations under which we have our products tested.

Our products are considered to be "General Use" products under the CPSIA, and a majority of them are therefore not certifiable as Children's Products (intended primarily for children 12 years and under). However, ETS is able to certify a limited number of products as Children's Products. These items have been thoroughly tested by a CPSC-accepted testing lab to verify compliance with Children's Product requirements and we are able to affix a permanent Tracking Label to those items at no additional cost.

sincerely,

ets express, llc
